FAFSA & Scholarship Resources

Create an FSA ID. Visit www.fsaaid.gov. Both the students and one parent or guardian must create a unique FSA ID before completing the FAFSA, using their own individual email addresses.

Complete a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) on or after October 1 for access to college money. Visit www.fafsa.gov. For assistance filling out the FAFSA, contact your school counselor OR EducationQuest at 402-391-4033 (11031 Elm Street in Rockbrook Village).

ScholarshipQuest, found on www.EducationQuest.org, contains a database of over 2,000 scholarships only available to Nebraska residents

All OPS students have a Naviance Student account, which also hosts an extensive scholarship database.

For assistance accessing this and other financial aid information, visit your school counselor.

FINANCIAL AID TIMELINE FOR SENIORS

For many students, figuring out how to pay for college is a major factor in selecting a school. The good news is that you complete one application, the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), to apply for federal grants, work-study, and student loans. Scholarships, however, require separate applications and come from a variety of sources. Be sure to apply for every scholarship that you qualify for, to make getting into your dream school a little easier.

 Scholarship applications will be available in Naviance Student approximately one month prior to the deadline. Additional applications and scholarship information may be available in your school's counseling center.

SEPTEMBER

Complete your FSA ID at www.fsa.gov. Both you and a parent will need to do this step before you can fill out your FAFSA.

Start applying for scholarships. Grab a highlighter and use this book to identify scholarships for which you are eligible. Check Naviance Student and your school counseling center for additional applications and information. Look for additional scholarships by using EducationQuest Foundation's ScholarshipQuest program or by searching the websites listed in this handbook. Continue to apply for scholarships as deadlines approach throughout the year.

OCTOBER

Complete applications to all the post-secondary schools you are considering. Include required fees, essays, letters of recommendation, and transcripts. Check with your counselor for additional help with this process.

Complete your FAFSA at www.fafsa.gov beginning October 1 (It's a good idea to have this completed by March 1, due to scholarship and grant funding deadlines). The FAFSA requires information from your parent's prior-year tax return. (see FAFSA Checklist on next page) To complete the FAFSA online, Work with your school counselor OR EducationQuest representative at your school OR stop into the EducationQuest Foundation office to file this form electronically (11031 Elm St. Omaha).

APRIL – JUNE

Expect to receive financial aid award letters from the post-secondary schools where you have applied. Compare awards by calculating the gift aid, the loan requirements, and the out-of-pocket expenses for each school. Return your signed award letter along with any other required documents to the school's Financial Aid Office. File a copy of any scholarship award with the College Counselor.

JUNE

Apply for student and parent loans, if necessary. If you decide to borrow from the Federal Stafford Loan or the Federal PLUS loan programs, use a NHELP Rate Saver lender. NHELP will reduce your interest rate by 1% after two years of on-time payments, and an additional 1% after another two years of timely payments.

CREATING A QUALITY SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Colleges, corporations, and organizations receive hundreds of applications for scholarships each year. What will set your application above the rest? While applications come in all shapes and sizes following the suggestions listed below may give your application just the edge it needs.

Before you do anything, CREATE YOUR ACTIVITIES RÉSUMÉ

- Organize information by categories (honors, activities, volunteering)
- Use bulleted lists for short descriptions under categories - start each statement with an action verb
- Separate sections by spacing or font changes
- Stress accomplishments, involvement and community service or volunteering
- List information in detailed, outline form
- An easy-to-use Activities Resume builder can be found on www.EducationQuest.org

BE YOURSELF

- Share stories and anecdotes that let the reader know who you are.

BE CONCISE.

- Pay attention to word counts, if the application states a maximum number.
- Less words is more. Don't add content just to fill the space.
- Consider the fact that the person reading your scholarship/college essay is likely reading many of them. Be specific, don't generalize.

BE A PROOFREADER.

- Strong grammar, including correct spelling, speaks positively.
- Have at least two (2) people proofread applications and/or essays before submitting them
- Follow application instructions exactly
- Printing or typing is preferred, especially if handwriting is difficult to read
- If handwritten, use black or blue ink, not pencil

BE COMPLETE.

- The student must sign all letters and forms requesting a signature, not the parent.
- Unsigned letters reflect a lack of attention to detail.
- Use your full legal name on scholarship applications, the FAFSA, and college admissions applications.
- Proper names of people, places and things should be capitalized.
- Include ALL requested forms and materials with the application.

BE PUNCTUAL.

- Meet all deadlines.
- Assume that materials must be received by the deadline.
- Allow 5-7 days for regular mail delivery.
- Allow teachers, counselors, employers, etc. 10 days to prepare and mail recommendation letters.

APPLY! APPLY! APPLY!

- Apply for everything for which you are eligible.
- Make copies of everything for your records and keep a list of award dates, if available.

FOLLOW UP.

- Send thank you notes to organizations that award you scholarships.
- If you have not heard back from an organization about a scholarship decision (by mail or email), you may call to inquire about whether they have awarded the scholarship yet or not.
- If awarded, find out if the scholarship will be sent directly to your institution or to you.

COLLEGE PLANNING TERMS

Accredited. Recognized associations of schools and colleges approve programs, procedures, and facilities of post-secondary schools, based on certain standardized criteria.

Accuplacer. College placement exam used by institutions for accurate math and English placement.

ACT. College entrance exam that includes test areas in English, math, reading, science and an optional writing section. Many Midwestern colleges require the ACT. Scores for each section are averages that create a composite score. A perfect score is a 36.

Activities Resume. An online tool from EducationQuest that tracks a student's extracurricular activities, part-time jobs, honors and awards.

Advanced Placement. Admission or assignment of a freshman to an advanced course in a certain subject on the basis of evidence that the student has already completed the equivalent of the college's freshman course in that subject.

Advanced Placement Program® (AP®). A program of the College Board that provides high schools with course descriptions of college subjects and Advanced Placement Examinations in those subjects. High schools offer the courses and administer the examinations to interested students, who are then eligible for advanced placement, college credit, or both, on the basis of satisfactory grades.

Arts and Sciences. A program of courses that does not focus on a particular career area; sometimes referred to as Liberal Arts.

Associate degree. A degree granted by a college or university after satisfactory completion of the equivalent of a two-year, full-time program of study.

Audit (Non-Credit). Class without credit.

Bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree. A degree received after the satisfactory completion of a four- or five-year, full-time program of study (or its part-time equivalent) at a college or university. The bachelor of arts (B.A.) and bachelor of science (B.S.) are the most common baccalaureates.

Candidate's Reply Date. May 1 is the deadline for students to select the school of their choice.

Catalog (Bulletin). A guidebook of the school. Use catalogs to compare requirements, costs, courses of study, and demographics of post-secondary schools.

Class Rank. A student's comparative standing in his/her high school class, based upon Grade Point Average (GPA). In OPS, this is the weighted GPA.

Co-Educational (Co-Ed). A student body, which includes both men and women.

College. A school of higher learning that grants a degree.

College Calendars. Traditional semester - two approximately equal semesters; quarter - four equal terms of about 12 weeks each; trimester - calendar year divided into three equal semesters - the third semester replaced summer school; 4-1-4, two equal terms of about 16 weeks each, with a 4-week interim term. Calendars are always listed in the school's catalog.

College-Level Examination Program® (CLEP®). A series of examinations in undergraduate college courses that provides students of any age the opportunity to demonstrate college-level achievement, thereby reducing costs and time to degree completion.

College Profiles. An online overview of colleges including information about admissions and costs, majors, activities, services and athletics.

Common Application Form. A standardized form accepted by over 200 cooperating colleges and universities. Common applications can be real timesavers when applying to several select schools.

Community Colleges. Institutions that offer certificates, diplomas and associate degrees in a variety of programs and lengths of study.

Cooperative Work Programs. Students are employed in their major field of study one semester and in college the other. This program helps defray school costs.

Credit Hour. A value generally given a particular course based on the number of class hours per week in a term.

CSS Profile. This financial aid application is administered by The College Board and used in conjunction with the FAFSA. Colleges that require the CSS Profile use it as an institutional financial aid form.

Curriculum. Courses of study.

Deferred admission. The practice of permitting students to postpone enrollment, usually for one year, after acceptance to the college.

Distance learning. An option for earning college credit off-campus via cable television, Internet, satellite classes, videotapes, correspondence courses, or other means.

Dual Enrollment. Students may earn post-secondary school credit while still in high school from participating two-year and four-year schools.

Early action. Students who apply under a college's early action plan receive a decision earlier than the standard response date but are not required to accept the admission offer or to make a deposit prior to May 1.

Early admission. The policy of some colleges of admitting certain students who have not completed high school--usually students of exceptional ability who have completed their junior year.

Early decision. Students who apply under early decision commit to enroll at the college if admitted and offered a satisfactory financial aid package. Application deadlines are usually in November or December with a mid-to-late December notification date.

EducationQuest Foundation. A nonprofit organization with a mission to improve access to higher education in Nebraska by providing free college planning assistance and resources.

Elective. A course that is not a requirement.

For Profit College. Institutions that specialize in technology-related fields or trades. These schools award diplomas, certificates, associate degrees, and in some cases, bachelor degrees. NOTE: Credits earned at these schools may not be transferable to 2-year and 4-year public or private colleges/universities.

Full-Time Student. At least 12 credit hours per semester.

General Educational Development (GED). A series of five tests that individuals who did not complete high school may take through their state education system to qualify for a high school equivalency certificate. Many colleges accept satisfactory GED test results in lieu of high school graduation.

Graduate School. Advanced study beyond college graduation, i.e., Master's or Doctoral degree.

Grade-point average (GPA). A system used by many schools for evaluating the overall scholastic performance of students. Weighted GPA in OPS reflects the extra points awarded to grades in Honors or AP classes.

Honors program. A college program for academically talented students that offers the opportunity for educational enrichment, independent study, acceleration, or some combination of these.

HOPE Education Tax Credit. A federal income tax credit up to $1,800 per dependent student annually; available to eligible taxpayers based on "out-of-pocket" tuition and fee expenditures, according to income eligibility guidelines.

Independent Study. Individualized college coursework completed outside of the regular classroom structure under the direct supervision of the course instructor.

Internships. Short-term, supervised work experiences, usually related to a student's major field, for which the student earns academic credit. The work can be full- or part-time, on- or off-campus, paid or unpaid. Student teaching and apprenticeships are examples.

Liberal arts. The study of the humanities (literature, the arts, and philosophy), history, foreign languages, social sciences, mathematics, and natural sciences. Study of the liberal arts and humanities prepares students to develop general knowledge and reasoning ability rather than specific skills.

Lifetime Learning Tax Credit. A federal income tax credit up to $2,000 per household annually; available to eligible taxpayers based on "out-of-pocket" tuition and fee expenditures, according to income eligibility guidelines.

Major. The student's academic focus and specialization. In general, most courses in the major are taken at the degree-granting institution during the junior and senior year.

Matriculated Student. One who has registered or enrolled in advanced education as a candidate for a degree or a certificate.

Midwest Student Exchange Program. A program in which participating colleges in Nebraska, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin offer lower non-resident tuition to students who meet the program's criteria.

Military academies. Institutions that offer tuition-free education in exchange for military service.

Minor. Similar to a major, a second area of concentrated study.

Open admission. The college admission policy of admitting high school graduates and other adults generally without regard to conventional academic qualifications, such as high school subjects, high school grades, and admission test scores. Virtually all applicants with high school diplomas or their equivalent are accepted.

Orientation. Freshman orientation is a way for students to meet other peers, become familiar with campus services, and register for classes.

Out-Of-State Tuition. An additional fee charged by a state college or university to students who are not residents of the state.

Private Colleges. Institutions that financially rely on endowments, tuition and fund-raising campaigns. They do not receive government subsidies.

Public Colleges. Institutions that are financially supported by the state in which they're located.

Quarter. An academic calendar period of about 12 weeks. Four quarters make up an academic year, but at colleges using the quarter system, students make normal academic progress by enrolling full-time and attending three quarters each year.

Registrar's Office. Student records department at a post-secondary school.

Religious-Affiliated Colleges. Institutions that have a sponsoring denomination, but most welcome students who do not subscribe to that faith.

Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC). Programs conducted by certain colleges in cooperation with the United States Air Force, Army, and Navy. Naval ROTC includes the Marine Corps (the Coast Guard and Merchant Marine do not sponsor ROTC programs). Local recruiting offices of the services themselves can supply detailed information about these programs, as can participating colleges.

Residency. If a student lives within a state's boundaries for a specified number of months for a purpose other than higher education, he/she may attend one of the state's public colleges at a lower tuition cost than non-residents. Tuition at private colleges is not based on residency. Residency requirements vary from state to state; consult with the residency office at the post-secondary school for specific residency requirements.

Residency requirements. The minimum amount of time a student is required to have lived in a state in order to be eligible for in-state tuition at a public college or university.

Rolling admission. An admission procedure by which the college considers each student's application as soon as all the required credentials, such as school record and test scores, have been received. The college usually notifies an applicant of its decision without delay. At many colleges, rolling admission allows for early notification and works much like nonbinding early action programs.

SAT. College entrance exam that measures verbal, writing and math reasoning skills. Scores on each section range from 200-800 points.

ScholarshipQuest. An online database of over 2,000 Nebraska-based scholarships. ScholarshipQuest is provided by EducationQuest Foundation.

School Expenses. The total annual cost of tuition, fees, room, board, books, travel, personal expenses, etc.

Semester. A period of about 16 weeks. Colleges on a semester system offer two semesters of instruction a year; there may be an additional summer session, or a short term between the semesters.

Study abroad. An opportunity for student to complete a brief part of their college program studying in another country. A college may operate a campus abroad, or it may have a cooperative agreement with some other U.S. college or an institution of the other country.

Transcript. A copy of a student's official academic record listing all courses taken and grades received.

Transcript Authorization Form (TAF). Students and parents authorize the Omaha Public Schools to release transcripts, letters, and recommendations to post-secondary schools and athletic departments as part of the application process. Such information will not be released without a Transcript Authorization Form on file at the high school or completion of the FERPA waiver in Naviance.

Transfer program. An education program in a two-year college (or a four-year college that offers associate degrees) primarily for students who plan to continue their studies in a four-year college or university.

Transfer student. A student who has attended another college for any period and decides to attend another college. A transfer student may receive credit for all or some of the courses successfully completed before the transfer.

Tuition. The cost of enrolling in classes at a post-secondary school. (Does not include the cost of fees)

Universities and Colleges (4-year). Institutions that offer bachelor degrees and a variety of majors. Many also offer advanced degrees such as masters and doctorates.

Wait List. The policy of deferring college admission acceptance or rejection past the usual notification date. Schools may place qualified students on a "waiting list" pending final notification, rather than deny admission.

FINANCIAL AID TERMS

Alternative Loans. Student loans provided by private lenders – not the federal government. The lender determines the interest rate and repayment terms.

Award Letter. A document issued from the college financial aid office to a student indicating the type and amount of financial aid the college will award.

Campus-Based Aid. Financial assistance for students and their families administered by a college. Funds, regardless of their source, are awarded to students by the college's financial aid office, and not by a state, federal, or private agency.

College Funding Estimator. An online calculator from EducationQuest that estimates FAFSA results.

Cost of Education. The cost of attending college for one year. This includes tuition/fees, room/board, books, transportation and personal expenses.

Default. Failure to repay a loan according to the terms agreed to at the time of application. Default may also result from failure to submit requests for deferment on time. Default status is recorded on your permanent credit record. Students in default are not eligible for financial aid.

Deferment. A period of time during which you are not required to make payments on an outstanding student loan.

Dependent Student. A student who does not meet the criteria of an independent student.

Direct Loan. A group of federal loan programs for which the lender is the federal government. Including government-subsidized loans for students and unsubsidized loans for students and parents.

Endowment. Funds held in reserve to finance operations for the college or other institution.

Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Determined by the FAFSA, this is the amount a family is expected to contribute toward their student's college expenses.

FAFSA. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the required application to apply for any type of federal financial aid including grants, work-study and student loans.

FAFSA priority filing date. The recommended date set by colleges by which students should file the FAFSA to receive the maximum amount of funds.

FAFSA verification. After receiving a student's FAFSA results, a college might request that the student submit copies of income tax and W-2 documents to verify the results.

Financial Aid Package. The type and amount of financial aid a student can expect from the college. This can include a combination of scholarships, grants, work-study and student loans.

Financial Aid Program. Presentations that describe types of financial aid and how to apply. The programs are offered at high schools, College Fairs and community agencies.

Financial Need. The maximum amount the college may award in need-based federal financial aid according to the following standard calculation:

$$\text{Cost of Education} - \text{Expected Family Contribution (FAFSA results)} = \text{Financial Need}$$

529 Savings Plans. A state-operated investment plan that gives families a federal tax-free way to save money for college. Officially known as qualified tuition programs (qtps). The 529 plan in Nebraska is the College Savings Plan of Nebraska.

Grant. A type of financial aid that does not have to be repaid. Grants are based on financial need and may come from the federal government, state government or the college.

Independent Students. Students whose parents' finances are not taken into account by colleges. To be considered independent, a student must:

- be at least 24 years old by December 31 of the award year covered by FAFSA; or
- be a graduate or professional student; or
- be married; or
- have legal dependents other than a spouse; or
- be an orphan or ward of the court or in foster care since the age of 13; or
- be a veteran of the U.S. armed forces; or
- be otherwise identified as independent by the financial aid administrator; or
- be in legal guardianship or an emancipated minor; or
- be determined to be currently an unaccompanied youth who was homeless or in danger of becoming homeless.

Master Promissory Note. A legally binding contract between a student and the lender that includes all the terms and conditions under which the student promises to repay your loan.

Origination fee. An administrative fee (up to three percent) deducted from each disbursement of your student loan.

Pell Grant. The largest federal grant awarded to undergraduate students based on financial need.

PERKINS Loan. A 5% loan funded by the government but awarded by colleges to both undergraduate and graduate students.

PIN. A personal identification number used as a student and/or parent electronic signature when submitting, or making corrections to, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Plus Loan. An unsubsidized (borrower responsible for all accrued interest) loan program for parents of undergraduate students. Graduate and professional students may also borrow the plus loan.

Scholarship. A type of financial aid that does not have to be repaid. Scholarships may be based on need, or other criteria such as academic achievement, artistic ability, or talent in the performing arts.

Stafford Loan. Federal education loan program for students. Stafford loans can be either government-subsidized, in which case the government pays any interest while the borrower is attending college, or unsubsidized, in which case interest begins to accrue when the loan is made.

Student Aid Report (SAR). The federal report generated from filing or updating your FAFSA. The SAR summarizes your FAFSA information and provides the Expected Family Contribution amount. The SAR is either mailed to you or provided online via a secure web link.

Subsidized Stafford Loan. A need-based federal student loan in which the government pays interest while the borrower is attending college, in the grace period or deferment.

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG). Awarded by colleges, this grant goes to the neediest undergraduate students as determined by the federal need analysis formula.

Tuition Tax Credits. Allow you to subtract, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, the amount of the credit from your total federal income tax bill.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan. A federal student loan in which the borrower is responsible for paying all accrued interest.

Work-Study. A federally funded program in which students take campus jobs as part of their financial aid package. To participate in a work-study program, students must complete the FAFSA.

Scholarship Lists

2020-2021

Academic Year

Special Notes

The following pages offer scholarship opportunities for Omaha Public Schools graduating seniors. Check eligibility requirements carefully to ensure that you meet the guidelines before you complete applications. Most applications require supplemental materials, i.e. essays, financial aid information, and a résumé.

Applications and Deadlines

Be aware that scholarship information may change periodically without advanced notice. Though the scholarships in this handbook were reviewed last spring, changes may have occurred over the summer. Therefore, do not limit your scholarship search to this handbook. Use every resource available to apply for any opportunity for which you are eligible.

- Check scholarship list in Naviance.
- Check resources in the School Counseling Center.
- Listen to the daily bulletin.
- Consult with your school counselor.
- Refer to websites for listed scholarships.
- See helpful websites on last page of this handbook.

Instructions to Log into Naviance

Staff and students can now sign in using Outlook 365. Alternate password is no longer needed!

In Office 365, click the waffle.

Select the "Naviance" app.

Username: Your Office 365 Login

Password: Your Office 365 Password

If you need any assistance, contact your school counselor.

Please note that funding organizations set scholarship deadlines.

As a general rule, applications are NOT available on Naviance until one to two months prior to that deadline. Contact sponsor or check sponsor's website to verify specific deadline at least two months in advance.
